

GENTLE GIANTS by Iva Nell Elder is about women writers in Texas. Nilah Turner is one of seventeen writers she chose to profile. The late TTU instructor, Jane Gilmore Rushing, was another Lubbock writer she included. The author noted all those chosen had good ole "Texas Grit," and "even when they don't write for a while, their desire never fades, but only simmers like a good savory stew, with time and the right ingredients bubbling and boiling and fills the most discerning appetite."